National Electronic Attachment, Inc. Signs Agreement with Guardian to Receive Dental Electronic Attachments via FastAttach(tm).

Atlanta, Georgia - National Electronic Attachment, Inc. (NEA) announced today that the Guardian Life Insurance Company of America, New York, will begin accepting dental electronic attachments (x-rays, perio charts, and intra-oral pictures) transmitted to NEA's web site from their providers, using NEA's FastAttach(system.

FastAttach(tm) enables dental offices to transmit dental attachments via the Internet, to NEA's database. The supporting documents are then available for review by Guardian's independent professional staff.

"Guardian is very excited to give our dental providers the opportunity to submit all their claims electronically," says Lloyd Tereno, Assistant Vice President, Group Dental Claims in Spokane. "It is our goal to make our office 'easy to do business with' for every dentist. The use of NEA and their imaging processes is a giant step in that direction. This will significantly decrease the time it takes for claims to be professionally reviewed and it will markedly speed up our responses to dentists when they submit pre-determinations and more importantly, it will speed up claim payments."

Guardian anticipates this arrangement will increase electronic claim volume, eliminate the need to return x-rays to dentists and reduce inbound mailroom expenses.

With $31.7 billion in assets as of December 31, 1999, The Guardian Life Insurance Company of America is the fourth largest mutual life insurance company in the United States. Founded in 1860, Guardian is listed among Fortune Magazine's top 200 businesses and was ranked sixth on Fortune's 2001 "most admired" life and health insurance list. With 6,000 employees, 2,400 financial agents and 98 agencies nationwide, Guardian protects individuals, businesses and their employees with life, disability, health and dental insurance products, 401(k), mutual fund and annuity investment products, and trust services. More information on Guardian can be obtained at: www.glic.com.

NEA's FastAttach(system enables dental claims attachments to be transmitted, via the Internet, to NEA's database where insurance companies are able to view the images on NEA's web site, in support of electronic claims.
